Reason for Change

Due to the ongoing component crisis, our supplier ADLINK has adapted the electrical design of the PCIe-GIE74.

The standard functions of the interface card remain unchanged.

If the ADLINK SDK is used for special functions, a new validation is recommended.

Change Description

The new design has replaced different power components, a micro controller and the PCIe switch. For normal use cases without using the ADLINK SDK for POE controlling the new version can be used.
